DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-18, drawn to a method for facilitating quality control analysis of sonic logging data, classified in class 367, subclass 32.
 - II. Claims 19-36 and 55-61, drawn to a system for facilitating quality control analysis of sonic logging data, classified in class 367, subclass 69.
 - III. Claims 37-54, drawn to a computer program product for facilitating quality control of sonic logging data, classified in class 367, subclass 25.
 - IV. Claims 62-73, drawn to a method for generating a slowness frequency analysis projection log, classified in class 702, subclass 6.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
Inventions I/IV and II/III are related as process and apparatus for its practice.

The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the process could be carried out by hand.

Inventions I and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and

(2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the SFA log information of Group I could be obtained by a process that does not project a first portion of dispersion curve information for a first selected depth onto a slowness axis of a dispersion curve plot. The SFA log information could be generated by generating the dispersion curves directly from the data. The subcombination has separate utility such as generating SFA projection logs for use in determining properties of an earth formation.

Inventions II and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the system could use SFA logs generated by hand or by a process other than the process carried out by the computer program product. The subcombination has separate utility such as a computer program for generating SFA logs for use in borehole formation studies.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Scott A. Hughes whose telephone number is 571-272-6983. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9:00am to 5:30pm.
